558	Myanmar	Apr-13	2013	EC	18M	Mid-Term Support to the Myanmar Peace Centre	INSTITUTIONAL CAPACITY BUILDING	Project Management and Implementation	IMG	In response to political and economic reforms promulgated by the Government of Burma/Myanmar, the European Union (EU) has suspended restrictive measures in late 2012 and is offering assistance to support the reform process. These reforms being undertaken by government are the result of the leadership's decision to undertake a three-pronged transformation: from up to 60 years of conflict and war to peace in ethnic states; an authoritarian, military system to a more democratic form of governance; and from a centrally planned to market-oriented economy. Central to the overall reform process have been peace initiatives, under which the government has brokered 13 ceasefire agreements with armed ethnic groups since late 2011. These agreements, each individually negotiated, must now be consolidated into lasting political settlements, as well as arrangements established for development in former conflict areas. The "Mid-Term Support to the Myanmar Peace Centre" Project builds on the reforms to support key stages of the peace process launched in late 2011. It aims to support reforms, reinforce the democratisation process, and most importantly, help prevent a resurgence of armed conflict.	COMPLETED	€ 6,600,000.00
